THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA STAFF BULLETIN

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

MARCH 15, 1973

JAMES H. WHYTE 1905 - 1973

JAMES HOWDEN WHYTE, Professor Emeritus of Botany, died Friday, March 9, 1973 at the age of 67.

Dr. Whyte accepted his first appointment at this University in 1939. He took a leave of absence in 1942 to enter the Armed Forces and served until 1945, when he returned to Alberta and was promoted first to Associate Professor and later to Professor.

In 1961 he was named Director of the newly-established Botanic Gardens, where he continued until his retirement in 1970. Dr. Whyte held a BSc in Agriculture from the University of Edinburgh and an MSc and PhD in Botany from McGill University.

NEW GRADUATE PROGRAM WILL AID DENTAL RESEARCH

A new PhD program designed to train students as teachers and researchers in Oral Biology has been given final approval by the University's Board of Governors.

The program was proposed by the Faculty of Dentistry and supported by the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research.

Training in oral biology will prepare students to teach at the dental school level and to carry out some of the fundamental research that has been somewhat neglected in the development of dentistry.

K. A. MC MURCHY, Chairman of the Department of Oral Biology, describes oral biology as "a branch of science that is peculiar to dentistry. Essentially, the program will train people to do research that is basic to the dental profession—research that would be analogous to basic science research in medicine."

In the past, he says, fundamental dental research has been left to the medical basic sciences, but medical research has expanded so greatly that little time has been devoted to those problems directly related to dentistry. The new PhD program signifies the Faculty of Dentistry's decision to assume greater responsibility in this area.

Although the program will be conducted by Dentistry, its interdisciplinary nature will necessitate a considerable amount of input from the Faculties of Medicine and Science as well. Candidates with previous dental training will require courses aimed at improving their ability to do basic research; candidates holding science degrees will be equipped to do basic research but will need courses that will broaden their understanding of such things as the physiology of mastication and calcification.

The staff of the Department of Oral Biology includes individuals trained in biochemistry, microbiology, and physiology. Their close association with dentistry will enable them to show students how knowledge can be applied to dental problems.

It has been argued that training in the medical basic sciences, rather than oral biology, would be sufficient for dental researchers. Dr. McMurchy points out, however, that biochemists "rarely come back to dentistry after they're trained. They are not aware of the problems with which we're faced or of the research possibilities available to them."

Students seeking admission to the new program will be expected to hold a DDS degree; a BSc (Honors) in biochemistry, physiology, or microbiology; or an appropriate MSc degree. Admissions decisions will be made by a joint advisory committee (Dentistry, Medicine, and Science), which also will be responsible for developing detailed programs, approving staff members who are to supervise those programs, and appointing a supervisory committee to administer the programs. Each student's supervisor will be required to hold a PhD in the major discipline involved in the student's research. Each supervisory committee will include at least one full-time staff member, from a department in Medicine or Science, who is qualified in the basic science appropriate to the research being conducted.

The Faculty of Dentistry expects to admit at least one candidate to the new program in the 1973-74 academic year. Further expansion of the program will be gradual and, like most new programs, will be dependent upon manpower and funds.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

By FOLIO Staff

The University's Board of Governors and its Executive Committee met March 2, 1973.

PROMOTIONS AND TENURE

The Board received two requests calling for immediate attention to current promotion and tenure procedures and practices at the University. Members agreed to establish a joint committee to discuss possible changes. Committee members will be appointed by the Board and by the Association of the Academic Staff.

UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICE

The report of the General Faculties Council ad hoc Committee to Review the University Health Service was submitted to the Board for information. Members also had before them letters from the Students' Union and the Graduate Students' Association, expressing concern about Board approval (granted February 2, 1973) of Health Service fees for the 1973-74 academic year.

Student representatives had expressed their opposition to the fees in briefs submitted to the Board last year. They feel the recent Board decision was made without due consideration of the student position.

It was agreed that the Board Finance Committee would meet with representatives of the student associations to discuss the matter further.

GRADUATE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

Board members voted approval of a request from the Graduate Students' Association (GSA) that the Board send representatives to meet with members of the GSA to discuss guidelines governing the employment of graduate students by the University.

GSA proposals will include the following points:

THAT the Board establish the principle that a previously supported graduate student who has satisfactorily performed his duties be given preference in receiving a graduate assistantship, if funds are available, over an incoming graduate student;

THAT the Board establish the principle that if a graduate student questions his chairman's evaluation that he is not performing his duties satisfactorily he may appeal the evaluation to a review panel;

THAT the Board, after receiving a submission from the Graduate Students' Association, review annually or biennially the amount of support a graduate assistant receives.

PLANNING STUDIES

Two items have been added to the Board's list of Planning Studies.

The first is a proposal that certain student services (Student Affairs, Awards, Counselling, and Health Service), and their administrative costs, be taken over by the Students' Union, the Graduate Students' Association, and the Lister Hall Students' Association.

The second is a recommendation from the Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences that tuition fees in the professional faculties be increased and that the student loan program be expanded to enable students to meet the increases.

SELECTION COMMITTEE ANNOUNCED

Membership on the Advisory Committee on the Selection of a President has been announced by the Board.

Board members appointed to the committee are F. T. JENNER as Chairman, D. C. RITCHIE, and E. A. GEDDES.

Elected members are: MRS. ROSS MUNRO, Senate; MYER HOROWITZ and GEORGE FORD, General Faculties Council; STEVE HUNKA and D. D. BETTS, AASUA; FRANS SLATTER and CHRIS SHEARD, Students' Union; FRANCIS MACRI, Graduate Students' Association; A.J. ANDERSON, Alumni Association; and G. WILLIAMS and P. ARNOLD, Non-Academic Staff Association.

GRANTS TO STUDENTS' UNION

Board approval was given to a Finance Committee recommendation that for 1973-74 the Board grant to the Students' Union $6,000 for the Course Guide and $3,000 for The Gateway.

The new Humanities Centre with its long, uninterrupted corridors contains few visual surprises, but there is one notable exception. The Audiovisual Centre—that vast, round, two-storey structure at the southwest corner of the building—is a series of easy shapes and optical illusions. The interior boasts four theatres with rear-projection screens.

NOTICES

TEMPORARY CLOSURE OF CENTRAL STORES

The following notice has been received from R. A. BENNETT, Director of Purchasing.

Although inventory control is maintained in Central Stores by means of perpetual inventory records and a continuous physical count which checks all items approximately three times a year, the recent introduction of inventory data control programs has made a full and complete physical count desirable.

Central Stores will therefore be closed on the following dates: electronics and engineering stores, March 26 to March 30 inclusive; all other stores, April 2 to April 6 inclusive.

It is requested that requirements for materials in stores be anticipated and ordered prior to the shutdown and in sufficient quantities to cover the closure period, as no orders will be filled during this time. The Purchasing Department will handle emergency requirements, but it is hoped these will be minimal.
